Shell Official Dies In Denver

Julio G. Bejarano, 54, former Los Angeles chemical industry executive, died Wednesday night in St. Joseph's hospital, Denver, Colo., after a brief illness. At the time of his death, Bejarano was manager of Shell Chemical corporation's Denver plant.

GROUP WILL JUDGE CITY.

"Community Life" is the topic of the Torrance Coordinating council's program tonight, Thursday, November 1. The meeting will be held in room 3 of the Greenwood school. The program will be devoted to evaluating the community and what it has to offer. Torrance Coordinating council consists of representatives from various organizations.

C OF C ELECTS BENSON

Werner Benson, Lomita attorney, was elected president of the Lomita Chamber of Commerce, winning the highly contested post by a one-vote margin. Benson edged out Ray Ferrin by an 18-17 count. The newly elected president will succeed William Cowan. Benson, whose office is at 2213 Lomita Blvd., has been in the area for the past 18 months. Born in Los Angeles, he moved to Hawthorne in 1920, where he practiced prior to moving to Lomita. He is a director of the Kiwanis club, and a member of the California State Bar, Benson, who is married, attended Southwestern university where he received his LL.B. degree. He served three years in the U.S. Army during the war. Elected with him were Ray Ferrin, first vice-president; Dr. Warren H. Low, optometrist, second vice-president; John Stanton, treasurer; Joan Lammanno, secretary; and, board of directors—Kenn Garcelon, Dr. Joseph Nebofen, Lynn Chandler, Tom Hinckley, Glenn Keith, Lloyd Orr, Greg Loyle.

SLEEPING HUNTER KILLED

A Torrance man accidentally shot a fellow deer hunter to death at Big Bear Sunday. George D. Lotz, 31, of 5514 Calle Mayor, Hollywood Riviera, told deputies that he and his friend, Samuel Zetty, 30, of San Pedro, had been sleeping in their car to get an early morning start. Lotz said he got up about 2 a.m. to check his equipment. While trying to dislodge a shell from the chamber of his gun, he accidentally pulled the trigger. The bullet pierced the car trunk and hit Zetty in the back, killing him instantly.

Councilman Asks Cops For Tickets

Parking meters and their enforcement kicked up a fuss at a meeting of the City Council last week. Councilman Willys Blount charged lack of law enforcement and favoritism, even involving certain members of the City Council. It was pointed out that lack of enough police officers made enforcement difficult. Illness and school left the Police Department momentarily understaffed, it was indicated. Business—tickets, that is, for over-parking was promised to resume as usual. A FEW WORDS in the Classified Ad can be turned into profits for you. Dial FA. 8-2345 for help from a Want Ad writer.
